25 YEARS OF EXCELLENCE

Shield 08

Building on Tradition

Janet was a great year. basketball and school was fun.
We have to do something
this summer. call me

JAN,
This year was pretty good, not counting Mrs. Hill
+ the 6th final.
Basketball's pretty good.
Gotta get ready for next year.
Have a good summer.
Jeff Fischel

Jan, my man—
Well, another year has come and gone. What a year it was!
To think we don't have to see
Mrs. Hill's smile or hear Mr. Feher's rude comments, makes me feel terrific. Oh, and what about Valenta's knee-high socks!
You've always been a good friend and I'm glad that I can always talk to you about anything on my mind. Well, enjoy summer and maybe I'll see you.
Give me a call and maybe we can do something.
Your friend,
Elliot

Activating

In elementary school, you could play with Barbie dolls and Star Wars figures (Skipper versus Darth Vader). During recess, it was who could kiss asphalt from higher up on the swings. In junior high it was cool to just stand around and be "social". Dances were awkward with guys on one side and girls on the other, while only the bravest dared to wander into enemy territory. High school offered some serious fun. Where else could you eat breakfast with Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs and Devo at the same table, but at Senior Munch? Dress up days activated our imaginations and kept the kid alive in each one of us. Class competitions united classes together. Dances, with so many of them, any once awkward, shy, unsocial teenager could become a cool, dancing dynamo. Homecoming Week allowed some of us to become the female mud wrestlers and sumo wrestlers we only dreamed of becoming. Only at Foothill could the ruffians of L.A. meet the barbarians of the prehistoric age.

High school may conjure up purely academic images, but with a little creativity, we had managed to fit some fun in here and there and make the trip worthwhile.

Ron Stern, John Jeltama, and Jeff Wokurka ask for heaven's help.

On Our

Success is not something attained instaneously. We must lay a firm foundation, just like any other architect of a prodigious and accomplished work. Tradition and ingenuity help us to attain our positions in life. High school is one of the most important parts of our lives, because it allows us to find who we really are, therefore allowing us to discover what we really want and need. Unfortunately, we could not make a climb upwards without taking a step backwards. Sacrifice and hard work often made it difficult to look beyond high school. But as we began to realize our potential to take our places in the real world, our friends, family, and teachers were there to push us forward.

Success is academic, financial, personal, and athletic, but it is never insignificant nor ignorable. Each person's triumph is the most important, as long as he believes in himself and the things he strives for. "Success is not measured by the position you attain, but by the obstacles you overcome." Davy Jones

Individuals

On the surface, one can see high school as a massive herd of people. Going one step beyond and searching for the individual, it becomes apparent that Foothill is filled with them. There is the artist with the deft maneuvers of his pen and paint brush. Talent which can hold a person in awe covers the walls of the gallery on campus. The student involved in the ASB, working to represent all individuals of the school, gets involved through spirit and determination. The OCAD team member, sacrifices hours and hours to gain further knowledge and to bring his team to victory. Even the "average" student isn't to be glossed over. He or she adds to the character of the school. One may find little in common with the guy who sits in front of him in Algebra. An athlete and an actor may seem incompatible, when in fact, if one is willing to go beyond the sterotypes and misleading appearances, common interests can be discovered. The one thing we all have in common is our contributions to the existence and strength of the school.

Ned Williamson, John Collins, Allan Baker, and Ashby Jones know who's #1.

U-Knight

Not The

The "thing" we're speaking of has been around for 25 years. It's what we affectionately call "tradition." Foothill relies heavily on traditional values and viewpoints. If something works, there is no need to change, only to make it better. F.A.K.H.F.A.J. and Springfest are still here. The athletes still strive to be the best. Academics continues to excel. Tradition offers a strong foundation on which to build an ever escalating edifice of school unity, progress, and individual growth.

This year, we let go of togas for senior dress up and replaced them with the garb of the prehistoric age. Senior pictures were in color in the yearbook for the first time. Assemblies were greatly improved and increased in student enthusiasm. At the same time, Foothill was still fighting for the guantlet (and got it back). The OCAD team still refused to succumb to the fierce competition. Foothill still held the respect of schools from all over.

After 25 years, Foothill has realized what works and what doesn't. Tradition stands side by side with progress and change. What's good gets better. What's new just may become tradition.

Kristin Swanson and Kristin Northcote experience the tradition of Senior Munch.

Same Old Thing

Love And

"We attract hearts by the qualities we display; we retain them by the qualities we possess." Whether it be in romantic love or love between friends, there is always a common bond and understanding which keeps people together. Sharing experiences, good and bad, helps us grow closer and to mature. The teenage years are turbulent times when we go through our share of girlfriends and boyfriends or go in search of that one right person. But each relationship gives us more knowledge and foresight into future relationships. Love hurts, but it also heals. We may not know who we want to spend our whole lives with, but we have begun to realize who we can't spend them with.

Friends, some may come and go, but there are those who have stood right beside us. The days may not have always been bright, but our friends were there to give us an encouraging smile and a strong shoulder to cry on. We carry so many cherished memories with us from high school and without friends, they would not have existed.

Building On

Academics

No one ever said it would be a bed of roses. But then again, you may have defied them all, by actually enjoying the academic life. At first, it may have seemed like a four year sentence for crimes unknown. Soon enough, you realized it wasn't that bad and that you were actually learning something. You found out that not all your teachers took a course in Perpetual Homework and Student Suffering.

In English, you were learning how cruel the real world was. At least you weren't diagramming complex sentences. You were often the guinea pigs for your teachers' bad jokes. Controversial subjects, such as AIDS, abortion, and nuclear war were discussed, while viewpoints were exchanged. Students were learning not only the Pythagorean Theorem and the conjugation of Spanish verbs, but about the world outside of Foothill.

You say academics and some people may shudder. In all actuality, academics wasn't just hours of homework, term papers, and tests. Academics was learning, experiencing, questioning, and appreciating all the world had to offer.

Mr. Pres . . .

"The junior class is very talented, in both academics and athletics, and will be very successful," Craig Turk stated. He was very pleased to serve as their President. The biggest project Craig took on this year was the Junior/Senior Prom, but a close second was a fund raiser. He planned a fund raiser so the Junior class "will have a lot of money to spend in our senior year." Craig Turk was very active at Foothill. Not only was he the Junior Class President, he also played basketball, ran in track, and competed in OCAD. Next year Craig plans to get involved with the ASB again. After graduation he plans to attend a four-year university, preferably the University of Pennsylvania. Then he would like to enter a career in politics.

Memories

It was funny to see all of the status symbols at Foothill this year. The two most important ones, class rings and lettermen jackets, have been seen around campus for 25 years, never changing or going out of style. "They're a good investment because they will always be around to remind you of your high school." Kacey Knowles explained. After two years of waiting, the class of '89 finally got to slip their rings onto their fingers this year. Although it may not have taken many of the Foothill student body as long to get their Varsity lettermens jackets, they treasured them as much as they treasured their rings. Wearing these items made them feel important and gave them a sense of school and self pride. "Class rings are a lasting memory," Sara Valdez, "We can look back in 20 years and be able to remember our exciting high school days." Class rings and lettermens jackets will be around Foothill as long as Foothill is around.

Classy Plates

"They make people notice my car more," explained Chrs Whitaker, "It's a great way to show your individuality." Of course, Chris was talking about his personalized license plates he proudly pronounced "brand new." While cruising through the Foothill parking lot, you were likely to catch a glimpse of several license plates displaying names, hobbies, special dates, or favorite sayings. In the past, students have expressed themselves by displaying objects hung from their rearview mirror, or by plastering bumperstickers to their windows. But why is FHS's latest rage personalized license plates? Is it because nobody can say it better than you can? Well, whatever it is, personalized license plates made an impression on Foothill students this year. Have you gotten your personalized license plates yet?

Dream On

You spent the night before doing your homework and talking on the phone. Now, it's second period, still too early for you to think clearly. But what luck! Today you're watching a film! As soon as the lights go out, your head hits the desk, and you're in lullaby land. All of a sudden, your dream becomes a nightmare. The lights blind you. The class is astir. The film projector is broken! Can't anyone fix it?!? Alas, your world seems to be crumbling. Your teacher feels it is necessary to do something for the next 50 minutes. He discovers some lecture notes on the mating habits of the Amoeba. Of all days why today? The minutes seem to drag on for hours. The only way to keep your eyes open is to stare wistfully at the clock. Finally, the bell rings. Freedom! As you rise from your desk, your teacher informs you that you've been docked 10 points for sleeping during the movie. "Oh great," you think. "What a way to start the day!"

Growing Up

As a junior in high school, the possibilities for your future seem countless. The only limitation for your success is your imagination. "I want to have a hot wife and cute kids to show off to my flashy friends. I want to drive a car that will bring envious glances from all, and give large sums of money to worthy causes so that people will think I'm a nice guy." Joel Schneider

"When I grow up I want to be a corporate raider. I would bribe company presidents to give me inside information then I would make billions from the stock market and eventually I would own Wall Street. (Ivan Boesky is my idol!)" Brian Stern

"I want to retreat to a small mountain cabin, grow my own grapenuts, and write poetry about my twelve children." Joanna Brooks

"I wanna live a shallow and obtuse life- and LOVE IT!!" Curtis Kin

Mr. Pres.

Ron McGehee was this year's sophomore class president. He decided to run for office because he wanted a leadership role and a say in what is going on at Foothill. He was influenced by his sister who was the ASB secretary last year. She told him what goes on in ASB and how they accomplish goals. The only other time Ron has held an office was last year when he was on the Freshman council.

The things Ron liked most about Foothill are the teamwork, school spirit, sports; and, that it is well known academically. He felt FHS would be better if the teachers and administrators would allow changing for the better and the breaking of some old traditions. He felt everyone should be more open minded.

Ron wanted the administrators to support and trust FHS students more. This year he and others in ASB worked to change the school's constitution. Ron would liked to have seen more lunch entertainment and school spirit this year. He enjoys sports and played football and participated in track this year. He also used his free time to participate in church programs.

It's Friday night after the big game. "What should we do now?" you ask our best buddies. "Let's go to my house and watch 'Top Gun'," someone suggests. "Not again," you moan. "We've already seen that seventeen times!"

The obvious solution to this common FHS scenario was to turn to those tried and true Hangouts. Those familiar places, where one could always count on seeing a friendly yet equally bored face - Lamppost, Goldmine Yogurt, and Naugles - were the spots to try first. And this year thanks to recent construction, FHS could expand its territory. The Main Place Mall opened, providing a myriad of activities from shopping, indulging in tasty cuisine, and going to the movies. And another popular spot was the new Spoon's restaurant, which was often frequented by FHS students.

So the classes of 1987-1988 kept their traditional hangouts yet received a taste of the new.

Crash Course

For the sophomores, it is basically a tradition to take drivers training. Although there is that dreadful wait that sophomores must go through between the time that they get their Teen Driver Manual to when they actually get to sit behind-the-wheel for their first driving lessons, the sophomores usually managed to stay on top of things. Once they got their licence, it was only a matter of time before they talked their dad into buying a car for themselves, using the car for a hot date, or taking it to the mall.

As to driving itself, some sophomores found it easy to do so. Paul Karlsen said "You just get in your car and go! It's simple!" Other people such as Allison Roby said "I'm STILL in Drivers Ed.!" Some of the sophomores found that driving had great advantages, like Brett Metzger. "I think it's great cause' I get to take girls out on hot dates!", said Brett.

Most sophomores found it easy to drive . . . once they got the hang of it. But, every now and then there will be a sophomore and a policeman seen exchanging goodwill on Newport Avenue.

FHS surfers joke around in the parking lot.

Surfin' FHS

"Surfing is like an addiction you just can't stop," explained Dane Gorup. Dane, along with his good friends Tyler Jackson, Joe Melvill, Justin Werth, Jeremy Mill, Jeff Janis, Rik Larson, Greg Clark, and Turtle (a prime example of a surfer name.), is a well known surfer at Foothill. These guys went surfing before -and sometimes during- school to their favorite spots. Two of these favorites were San Clemente T-Street and Black's Beach.

Although these surfers differed on the best thing about surfing, either "Pulling out of a 'killer' barrell", "Running down a hated boogie boarder", or "Pulling off a move you've never done before", their dreams were all very similar - to go on a surfing safari to Bali or Java with a girlfriend who resembles Miss OP 1987. This dream will never die for these surfers and neither will their search for the perfect wave that they can "totally shred."

A Fresh Face

Paul Constantine, the freshman class president this year, ran for the distinguished office because he thought he could help promote freshman class spirit and involvement in school activities. It was important to him to make every freshman's first year at Foothill a more enjoyable experience. Never before had Paul held a position on Student Government.

Busy in extracurricular activities both in and out of school, Paul's hobbies include writing lyrics to songs, acting, and playing basketball. He said he likes Foothill not only for it's devoted faculty, but for its avid supporters, like Robbie Ross, "Who always stands by us when we lose a game, and always congratulates us when we win."

If Paul had the power to, as president, he would like the freshmen to have privileges like seniors, and for all students to have more days off throughout the year to rest their minds.

President Paul Constantine wants to promote freshmen class spirit and involvement in school activities.

A Change Of Pace

All summer they anticipated it. They were entering the big league now . . . HIGH SCHOOL. Although some freshmen flowed into the mainstream quickly, others had a more difficult time adjusting. The homework was piled on, and the grades received now actually went on college transcripts! Thus, the word "responsibility" was introduced to every freshman's vocabulary.

But, by the end of the first semester it was evident that the majority of the freshmen class had found his or her own niche in the high school community. The fact that the freshmen were still the punchline of every assembly joke was no longer intimidating or embarrassing, but was looked upon as an established tradition.

So, whether or not it was wanted, the freshmen took on their new-found responsibilites, and then they began to concentrate their efforts on the finer aspects of freshmen life.

Tracy Kirkham and Cindy Cummings find it easy to have spirit at Foothill.

The Good Life

After the first few months of adjusting, most freshmen began to see the benefits that high school has to offer. Besides the sudden increase in responsibility, they realized their social lives were also given a boost.

Freshmen could go to those formal dances, like Homecoming and Winter Formal, which they had only dreamed about going to in junior high. Sports events, too, were much more fun to attend; for example, at football and basketball games they could choose to sit in the middle of the rowdy FHS crowd! And, if they could work out their transportation problems for the evening, both freshmen guys and gals alike could cruise over to Naugles or Lampost to mingle with the elite upperclassmen! And, maybe, they could even test the waters at an open FHS party!

In addition to the weekends, high school during the week also had its advantages. With a school of Foothill's size and diverse student body, FHS always had something to offer. With ASB activities, sports events, clubs, and dances, there was always something around the corner to look forward to.

A Tight Squeeze

Although there were many benefits of freshmanhood, there was one downfall every freshman met upon entering high school - the lockers. Previously, at Hewes Middle School, the freshmen had lockers boasting a size of 2'10" x 9 ½". High School lockers, meanwhile, are a tight 1'10" x 9 ½". Where is the justice? Everyone knows that with high school comes more responsibility, with more responsibility comes a heavier workload, and with a heavier workload comes heavier, fatter textbooks! Often, many underclassmen, and especially seniors, could be seen lugging hefty bookbags across the quad to class. And, on a bad-day-turned-sunny many students could be seen wearing buldgy winter coats all day, which could not possible fit into the little blue cubicles.

However, some students overlooked the unfortunate locker situation and went on to decorate! Surfers and sports-related themes were prevalent, and other popular motifs included pictures of super-models, like Paulina Porizkova, and heart-throbs, like Charlie Sheen and Tom Cruise.

Scott Mollot is shocked that his locker is so small.

Getting Around

As usual, the freshmen had only a few methods of transportation to and from school: the bus, the bike, and the mother. Unfortunately, sometimes even these modes were undependable. Getting a flat tire, missing the bus, or not having spare change to call Mom made the typical freshman resort to desperate measures. For example, Pat Wokurka had to resort to this undesirable measure after the bus left him at home.

Although the transportation situation was an unpleasant ordeal to some, others had no problem at all. Dave Ackerman simply stated, "It's cool because a friend takes me to school." But John Erdkamp complained, "It's such a drag for my mom to have to pick me up." To some freshmen, the idea of unbearable torture was more appealing than the embarassment of having good ol' mom, adorned in curlers, of course, parked outside waiting in the Senior Parking Lot.

Some of the lucky freshmen could bum rides off upperclassmen friends, while others could make a barter - for instance, washing the car in exchange for a ride home.

Whether by bus, bike, Mom, or luck, the transportation problem will always be a chronic dilemma for all those unlicensed freshmen.

Ryan In Control

James A. Ryan, the new principal this year, is very impressed with Foothill. He likes everything - the students, the parents, the staff, and even the school itself. Previously, Mr. Ryan had been a principal at Indio High School, and prior to that, he was an assistant principal at Miraleste High School.

Mr. Ryan, born in L.A., attended Occidental College. He had a military career before he entered education. During the Korean War, he was stationed in Germany, and while there, he had the opportunity to visit many European countries. After returning to L.A., he received his first teaching position as a mathematics instructor.

Since then, he has taught several other classes, and he has coached basketball, track, and tennis. After teaching for 15 years, he entered administration, in which he has been working for almost 15 years also.

Outside of school, Mr. Ryan enjoys backpacking, camping, bike riding, and playing tennis.

If possible, Mr. Ryan would like to tap resources in the community to get financial support for services that can be used at school. He would like to improve the appearance of the school, although he states, "FHS has a very nice campus." Mr. Ryan would also like to work in curriculum revision to ensure the curriculum will provide the best education system possible. And finally, Mr. Ryan would like to make FHS a more caring school, so students will feel welcome to it, and attending Foothill will be a pleasant experience for all.

Silver Knights

Many teachers have come and gone the twenty-five years that Foothill has been around. But five of the current faculty have been here since the doors first opened in September 1963. These five loyal "knights" are Mrs. Booth, Mr. Hummell, Mr. Korich, Mr. Osborne, and Mr. Robbins.

Each one of them has had a memorable time at FHS, and Mr. Robbins, originally here as a math teacher, and now an administrator, says what he has found the most special about Foothill is, "The overall desire of the students to excel both academically and athletically." Mrs. Booth, also here since the beginning, has always found the students most special. "I have many memories from the students I have taught," she says.

FHS, proud of its twenty-five years of excellence, must acknowledge these five loyal knights. Their commitment and dedication the last quarter of a century has contributed to making Foothill the most successful school in the district.

Behind Bars

"What I like most about my job is being around all of the kids," said Mrs. Dean with a smile. Mrs. Dean, peering out from behind the bars at the student store everyday, has been at FHS for seventeen years, so she knows almost everything there is to know about running the student store. Because of her experience, Mrs. Dean always has everything under control. She is able to anticipate the busy times of the year, like Homecoming Week, and then throughout the month of January and into early February, when things are going slow, she has the opportunity to get everything up to date.

Running the student store requires more than just selling sweatshirts, school supplies, and activity tickets. Mrs. Dean's job also demands her time in the evenings. She is usually present at sports events to supervise the candy selling and to monitor student enterance. Mrs. Dean devotes a lot of time and energy in our school, so she deserves much credit for keeping Foothill running smoothly.

Building On

With each new piece we add to the Building of Tradition, we come one step closer to our zenith of accomplishment. As with everything else: academics, sports, organizations, etc., activities grow better with age. The fun our predecessors had in the past is not much different than the fun we constantly seek today. High school is the final realm we are allowed to linger in until we step unto the plateau of reality. It seems a magical place, where anything is possible. Seniors tangle with fantasy and imagination by dressing up as anything they desire for Senior Munch. Juniors turned Tustin into L.A., where once innocent, clean cut students became the tough inhabitants of the Sunset Strip.

Dances, such as Winter Formal and Prom, added a magical, classy touch to some of our most memorable evenings. You begin, unsure of where to put the corsage, which foot to move on the dance floor. Then, you gradually "build" up to a new level of confidence, where you're just as likely to take a friend as well as the girl of our dreams to a dance.

Each activity, whether it be Sadies or Springfest, a pep assembly or the Prom, creates a new cherished moment to store away in our fond memories of yesterday. The days when our imaginations ran wild and we were free to dabble in our dreams.

On a crisp fall day, Foothill's Annual Knights Homecoming Feast And Joust celebration had seemed to be enjoyed by all. An assembly was held which contained various class competitions including: drag racing, women's mud wrestling, men's pillow wrestling, and a pie eating contest. Afterwards, the students divided up and ventured to the quad where many took up the art of hula dancing. Others headed down to the cafeteria area where clubs and class councils sold a variety of concessions while some went to the pool area to root their classes on in the innertube water polo competitions. Many Knights had taken a turn at giving a car a whack, which was sponsored by the drama department in order to show the hidden dramatics, inside everyone. Having the students dressed up to their class theme also added fun to the activities. Although the seniors' Toga day was deleted from this year's schedule, most had agreed that F.A.K.H.F.A.J. made up for it, being one of the most successful Feast And Jousts yet.

October 31, a magical night that Foothill students may remember for a very long time. This was the night of the annual Homecoming Dance. This year, the dance was held at one of the spacious, elegant Disneyland Hotel ballrooms. Even though it was Halloween night, that didn't distract the Foothill students from coming to the dance with their dates and having a fun time. Despite the semi-formal tone of the dance, couples came dressed in their best evening outfits. Many of the girls wore pretty, fancy dresses, and many of the guys wore snappy suits, perhaps bought just for this special, exciting occasion. Couples got their pictures taken together, and some people took group pictures and pictures with best friends, as a remembrance of the dance. As the night rolled on, energy filled the ballroom dance floor as the coy couples eventually started to loosen up and dance to the upbeat music being played by the live band, the Scandals. And if they stayed on the dance floor long enough, they could possibly catch a slow dance, giving them a perfect opportunity to dance cheek to cheek.

A Week To Remember

Throughout our school's 25 years of existence, there have been several changes for the good, and for the not so good. This year marks a change in Foothill history. It dealt with the whole Homecoming Week. The change was the format of how things were run. This year there were no out of control events, only those with organization. The week consisted of a float building contest, family feud night, recreation night, twister matches and class arm wrestling. Family Feud night displayed each class in their own class dress. The Seniors took a joyous victory. Rec. Night provided the sport in all of us to go ahead and take a part of the vicious action in the gym. The twister and arm wrestling competitions took place during the lunch hour blues. Even though the thought of heavenly chariots, and Roman costumes filled the minds of many, that was the thing of the past, for now we must move on. To the minds of many, this week marked a new chapter in Foothill's book of traditions, and it has been a week to remember.

Expect The Unexpected

The brisk autumn night was like that of no other. For it was on this night that the crowning of the Homecoming Queen was to take place. Eagerly awaiting were the students, alumni, and the families to watch the court stroll by in their convertible sports cars. The court was comprised of Ashley Selman, Michelle McCain, Cindy Ross, and Shasie Johnson. Their porcelain expressions were sparked with exuberance as they rode down the track. The court grew nervous as the announcement of the 1987 Homecoming Queen drew near. The Queenship was presented to Karen Evans, who was quite surprised. Golden lights were displayed in the gray sky. At the dance, the Homecoming King was announced. The court consisted of Adam Hairston, Derek Fritts, Kent Madole, and Jason Constantine. But the winner, not to many peoples' surprise was the infamous Jeff Berry. It showed that anyone can win the top seat of king. As the night progressed the royal court danced the luminescent night away to only expect the unexpected.

Sophomores Hit Hawaii

Friday, October 30, the sophomore class brought the Hawaiian Islands to Foothill. As sophomores began to arrive at school dressed as surfers, hula dancers, tourists and casual beach bums, they showed their school spirit for the festive day of sophomore dress-up. Students began to greet themselves with the common "Aloha" and they had visions of Wakiki Beach. They had not let the shock of summer vacation being so far off bother them. Instead, they lived it up and looked forward to the ski season. As the days activities started, the sophomores brightened up the quad with an Hawaiian band and hula dancers. They also added some flowers and tropical decorations to liven up the mood. The sun was shining bright as many students gave it their best try to keep up with the hula dancers, while others decided to sit back and enjoy their tropical drinks and pizza. With the many who participated in the "Hawaii" theme, it resulted in a very successful day for the class of '90.

Morning Madness

Bright and early at 7:30 in the morning on October 14th, the weary Foothill Seniors gathered at Knotts Berry Farm for the Senior Munch breakfast as part of the Senior activities this year. Everyone dressed up in various outrageous, colorful, original, humerous costumes. There were many people dressed up as pregnant nuns escorted by priests, and a lot of Mexicans and other creative outfits. The Munch was held in a popular coffee house at Knotts, where inside was filled with chattering, hungry Seniors anticipating their breakfasts which consisted of scrambled eggs, fresh hot biscuits, potatoes and other tasty breakfast fixins. After breakfast was finished, the entertainment began. This year, a comedian had been hired to put on a show for the Munch crowd. He was very funny and kept everyone laughing through the morning. Then, after breakfast and entertainment, the big Senior Munch group picture was taken in a selected area of Knotts. Soon after, the Munch came to an end, and eventually everyone made their way hesitatingly back to school.

Building On A Knight

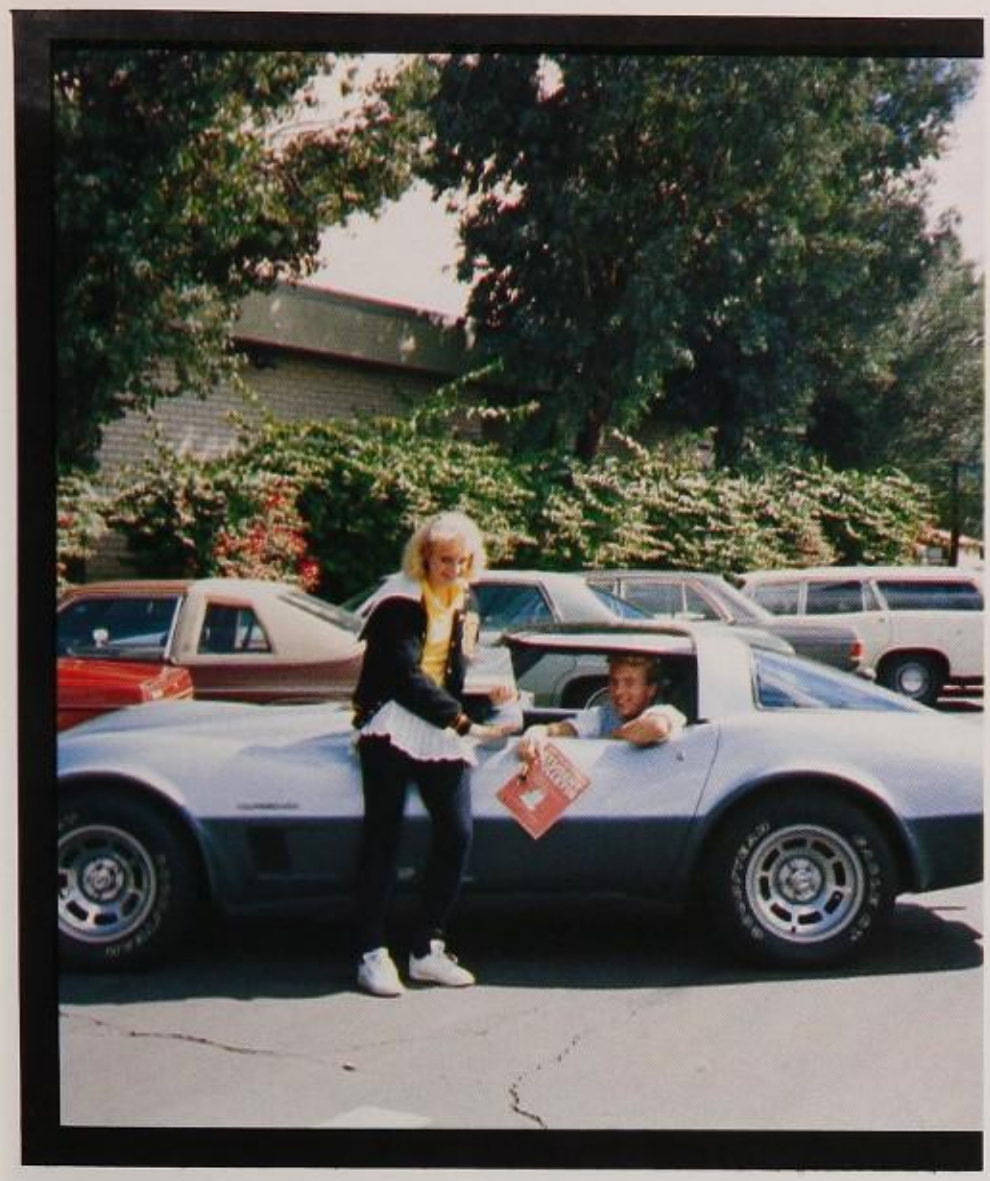
For the past 25 years, the journey to become the ultimate Foothill Knight begins during one's freshmen year and continues until the senior year is reached. As depicted from the picture, the lives of everyday freshmen are portrayed by Susie Lubell and John Scardino. It is evident that fitting into the high school scene can be very difficult for most freshmen. Scardino is looking a little bummed at the thought that he could still fit into a trashcan. Perhaps, he wished that he had not slammed into these seniors during his rush to his World Cultures class to beat the tardy bell. It also appears that Lubell is confused as she seeks guidance from her library book. Never fear, soon enough these greenhorns will have learned the ropes. Mrs. Fujimoto will have been relieved from her duty of issuing school maps to the lost wanderers. Just as the school nurse won't have to continually restock the band-aid supplies for those who lose their balance while running through the halls. As these freshmen grow, they will have developed the qualities found in the supreme Foothill Knight to get a true feel for the high school scene.

Upon entering sophomore year, one has made the second big step of four up the ladder of supremacy. To the right, there is the depiction of sophomores having a glimpse of exactly what "responsibility" entails. Alison Olivera and David Frutos enjoy the future aspects presented to them as they enter into a whole new world of experiences including, behind-the-wheel, and their first part time job. Here, it is evident that Oliveira has survived behind-the-wheel and has lived through her permit test. There is a sense of excitement portrayed by Frutos as he "shows off" his Biology and Health books. Sophomores also have a chance to relive Julius Caesar and The Good Earth in their literature classes. The administration did not waste any time in preparing sophomores for college with the opportunity to take the N.E.D.T. and P.S.A.T. To some, sophomore year is nothing more than a second year of high school. To the rest it is a challenging stepping stone to a successful high school career.



Brad Smith and Julie Lerch exhibit the freedom the juniors gained once they became upperclassmen. The juniors are now authorized to drive, many with their own cars. Aside from this, the upperclassmen attain the honor of studying to take the Scholastic Aptitude Test. Brad explains his test taking tips to Lerch while she dreams about her date to the Junior/Senior Prom, which she is now eligible to go to. Juniors took on higher paying jobs like office work, catering, and working for their fathers. Juniors also hit a fashion peak when they have received their personalized class rings. Although these upperclassmen now have many privileges, they also have many responsibilities. They must start planning for the future and buckle down in classes like Chemistry, History and Algebra 2. Trips to colleges and to universities are done now. This age in high school is basically stable as most juniors have made great achievements in their interests such as sports, clubs, and friends. This lead the juniors closer to becoming the ultimate Knight, having established many of the characteristics needed.

Having finally reached perfection, Veronica Vasquez and Tom Adams are psyched about being seniors. They toast each other to their conquest with their stylishly original senior mugs. They are obviously excited and anxious for graduation as they model their graduation gowns. At this point in high school, the seniors are at their peak. Having senior privileges such as shortened classes and permission to leave school for lunch have certainly helped to ease the shocking blow of attending school. Special Senior Munches and other activities have also added fun to make this year even more bearable. Many Foothill students express their excitement for the future by wearing college sweatshirts. After having experienced four years at Foothill the Knights of the class of 1988 are the finished product of success. They will be missed by the students, faculty and friends at Foothill, but will never be forgotten. Their prowess will serve as an example to the remaining underclassmen in showing them how to become the ultimate Knight.

On Junior Recognition Day, Foothill High School's quad gave the students an example of what the streets of Los Angeles looked like. They dressed up and showed us all their class spirit by being dressed up as gangsters all the way to movie stars. They also made it complete with leather pants, chains, and hair nets. Of course we can not forget the ladies as bag ladies all complete with torn clothes, and the shopping carts. Even though the traditional dress up day did not last all week, the juniors gave it their best. The juniors had to wait to show their spirit until Friday. After the juniors devoured their L.A. lunch which consisted of tacos, ice cream, and Cokes, they had walked over to the quad area for some sheer Hollywood entertainment. The entertainment consisted of a real disc jockey, a water dunking booth, hula dancers, and much more. With the start of the new dress up tradition, the juniors showed their spirit to the fullest.

Seniors Get Primitive

On October 30, 1987, the Foothill seniors took their clubs in hand to participate in the annual dress up day festivities. Contrary to the former traditional toga theme, Foothill guys and girls put on their ragged animal skins and roamed among the creative props of dinosaurs and foliage, creating the new primitive theme. Most guys resembled Fred Flintstone and Bam-Bam, while the girls looked like Pebbles and Wilma. Girls had bones on them and in their hair. Guys displayed fashionable long-haired wigs, and fuzzy footwear. To start out this new tradition, all the students gathered in the gymnasium to cheer on their brave classmates in class competitions. Afterwards, the seniors barbarically ate their lunches which could be bought from the various food stands that were set up in the cafeteria. Many students were skeptical about the change in Feast And Joust, but after the event was underway, enthusiasm could be sensed. Senior dress up day turned out to be a great success.

Fiesta Time For Freshmen

"Arriba arriba, andele andele, yi yi yi", as Speedy Gonzales says. Freshman class hit the border on a beautiful October day we will all remember at Foothill High School. Excitement filled the land south of the border; known as the "quad", with friendly senors and senoritas who spent time together sharing their fake smokes and "original" mexican blankets. The "cool" crowd fantasized about having lowered '67 Chevy's with tinted windows and fuzzy green dice hanging from their rearview mirrors. The people from Los Angeles, Hawaii, and even the caves, joined in the fiesta of eating deliciously greasy tacos, along with other foods sold in another part of campus. Although Julio Iglesia was not performing, people appreciated the young DJ's music by dancing wildly in the quad. Unfortunately, this beautiful day of celebrating was brought to an end; but not the visions of colorful pinatas, dark shades, and big sombreros that lie in the memories of the handsome senors and beautiful senoritas.

A Formal Fantasy

At the start of the long awaited Winter Break, the 1987 Formal turned out to be quite a fantasy, especially for 12 young men and women who were selected for the Formal Court due to the excellent service they've given to Foothill High. The court consisted of princesses: Susan Brown, Dina Nicolai, Stephanie Schwartz, Paula Valle, and Shirley Wu. The princes were: Paul Cash, John Collins, Bryan Hannegan, Matt Lillard, and Mike Marchetti. Each member of the court was full of anticipation and excitement as the king and queen of the Foothill 1987 Winter Formal Dance were to be announced. With a suspenseful drumroll, it was discovered that Paula Valle, and Paul Cash had captured the crowns. In a royal celebration, King Paul and Queen Paula fulfilled their fantasy by sharing a romantic dance which will be a fond memory forever.

As signs of rainy weather, snow top mountains and seasonally lit houses appear, girls at Foothill High School begin to get nervous. Especially when that day came to ask that rad babe to the December 19th Winter Formal Dance.

This exciting night at the Anaheim Convention Center served as a fun-filled remembrance before the New Year to come. Some couples enjoyed a romantic evening, being driven around in a flashy limousine to dinner and the dance. Others enjoyed a quick bite to eat at Dennys, overloading their cars just to get to the dance and show their stuff on the dance floor. The band, Heirborne, was a smashing hit.

Students who went to the munch found themselves having a fantastic time wearing paper crowns, eating their dinners with their fingers, and cheering on the jousters in the huge, sand filled arena in the middle of the restaurant. The jouster, dressed in Medieval costume, put on a great action filled performance. The King andQueen of Medieval Times did their duty of nobly presiding over the evening's festivities. After dinner and the show there was dancing and music for everyone to enjoy. Everyone who went to the munch came back to school with good comments for their friends about the fun time they had.

The Art Of Dating

The high school scene added a new slice of life in our Garden Of Delight. It brought the students a chance to expand their dating horizons to better things. High school marked the beginning for some a chance to share their life with someone else, and for others it brought a chance to explore the vast dating field. For most students this social time came much sooner than for others. But like everyone else, these elite few had to have experienced the pros and cons of the "first date" The first date for most people has it's set backs. After hours of careful preparation, some experience a sense of nervousness. Clammy palms, dry throat- and lack of communication drags on as the night progresses. But after the dinner, and movie you feel more at ease with the person. This is not so bad after all, for it was now that the art of dating has been mastered.

High School couples were a remarkable item of interest. They were the ones who walked comfortable hand in hand down the crowded halls. They were the ones who sneaked a kiss and a hug before class began. Finally, they were the ones who are together forever. Those few couples that were present were utterly inseperable with each other's companionship. The big difference between the steady couple, and the couple that is just started out seeing each other, is the rate of date. The serious couple goes for the cheaper way sometimes, for all they need is each other's presence. As the sun slowly sets into dusk, the couple have planned a night of enchantment, for they were together once again.

Pajama Party

It was a first at Foothill High, as the students gathered in the gym for a Pajama Dance on February 12. Students began to arrive dressed in boxer shorts, night gowns, sweats, and some dragged along their favorite teddy bear to dance the night away. At first, the students seemed a little hesitant about the original new theme but once the dance started the enthusiasm increased. Everyone was out to have fun and they certainly succeeded. The crowd danced to the sound of the disc jockeys until 12:00, when the dance ended. As the night came to an end, it was evident that a good time was had by all who attended. It will be interesting to see if the Pajama Dance will turn into a Foothill tradition.

Aspects Of Music

Different strokes for different folks, or so they say, Music brought relaxation during hard times for some, for it is a means of escape. Throughout the years our taste of music changes also from disco to punk, to hard rock top 40. Whatever your taste may be, most people idolize a certain rock figure that had brought new depth and dimension in their world. If your idol was Ian Curtis, Rat Scabies, The Beatles, David Bowie, Bryan Ferry, to Springsteen, Peter Murphy, or Morrissey, the student can relax to the lyrics. This past year for music brought back the dance scene and clubs. Whatever you fancy music wise, rock'n'roll is here to stay.

The dance was hosted by a video D.J. who set up two big screens for everyone to either dance to the cool music or watch the videos. Among the Sadie Hawkins court winners were Frank Busalacchi and Jenifer Price for the Senior class, Chris Lema and Robin Mayemura for the Junior class, John Shanahan and Melanie Madole for the Sophomore class, and Kristin Miller and Paul Constantine for the Freshman class. 1987 was a time to remember the tradition of spirit in our pep assemblies. This remarkable year brought about a surge of burning energy to participate within the student body. Although our stunt squad performed their acrobatic abilities to perfection, the dedicated ASB made the assemblies worth watching. ASB planned events that made each class proud of their grade. With the yelling class competitions, and the return of the gauntlet act, came participation from the whole student body. Also the assemblies were touched by the pressence of remarkable basketball and the clever Wish Fairy, who brought joy to all. A great hand of appreciation to the Pep Squad and to ASB, for they brought back the true meaning of the word spirit, which is the key to success.

Job Expectations

Responsibility comes with the territory through a job. A job usually marked the beginning of your own financial independance from your parents. Now the student could earn extra spending money or save your earnings for bigger and more promising things. Most students take a job to fulfill their car demands with insurance payments, while others have saved their hard earned money for college. But whatever the student spends his money on, they would have used some skills taught in school. For receptionist work, one perfects their typing and note taking skills. Still others display their public relations skills for profit. Whatever the work, a job can hold many benefits for your future.

Building On Tradition With Activities

Tradition and excellence both hold true when referred to Foothill's ability to excel to the highest in Academics, Clubs, and Athletics. But Activities this past year mixed old and new ideas and created a promising future for the social atmosphere right here at Foothill. During the 25 years of existance, Foothill has maintained the supreme quality in organization for pep assemblies, and dances. ASB and the student body provided what was known as the most energetic assemblies in a long time. The old senior toga concept was gone, and the new night time senior munch was here. For the first 25 years, the Activities tradition burned bright, with a few more sparks here and there. What is in store for activities in the future? Well, until the next chapter, activities will continue with success.

Building On

Sports

Athletics are a vital part of Foothill's unprecedented reputation. Through hard work and unfaltering dedication, Foothill's athletes strived to reach the pinnacle of success and personal satisfaction. Possessing raw or potential talent would not be enough. Working together as a team, practicing hours on end, generating enthusiasm, refining skills, and making sacrifices could only add up the formula of success. Athletes were faced with the challenge this year of living up to the standards emblazened in 25 years of excellence. With such great talent and incentive to be the best, Foothill refused to disappoint adament supporters.

There is a sport for every individual taste. Soccer, water polo, track, and volleyball are only a few of a vast variety offered. One sport should not be considered better than another. Rather, each should be seen as equal, but different, contributing to the strength of the school and teaching individuals to become part of a cooperative team. Sports not only strengthens the body, but also the mind and the human spirit.

True Talent

As the Volleyball season of '87 came to a close, the teams went out knowing they had a gratifying season. Led by rookie Coach Lesuer, the Varsity Volleyball team had no problem in putting more points on their side than most other teams did. As many a team found out, the volleyball squad of '87 was pretty well up on top. All three teams practiced hard and played hard to give what they could. Tanya Foxe, Tina Sadler, and teammates put out a strong effort on their part to secure a positive side of the game, as well as the experience. The J.V. team also improved as the season prolonged, as so did the Frosh/ Soph players. Both ending in a fairly normal season and expected to become even stronger in the near future. As for the Varsity team, their future looks exciting with returning players and new hopefulls that will boost the team even more. Volleyball is picking up, and each year even better.

$H_2O$ Polo Takes League

Foothill continued its winning tradition in waterpolo with another successful season this year. Led by goalie Artie Castro and seven other returning players, the varsity finished with a 19 win and only 9 loss season overall. In Century League action the team was 5 and 0. This undefeated record assured the Knights of winning the league title and gaining a playoff berth. The team made it to the second round of CIF play before losing a tough game to Corona Del Mar.

As in the past, Foothill relied on teamwork rather than just one player. "Everyone worked together and the team's scoring was pretty much even," said team captain A.J. Palluck. At the beginning of the year the team set a goal to beat archrival Villa Park, and that is exactly what they did, 12 to 9. Along with the Villa Park game, one of the season's highlights was competing in the Stanford tournament, where the team finished with a very respectable 3 and 2 record. This is an important tournament because college coaches watch for prospects. Along with the team's league title, Rob Reynolds received the Century League MVP.

The Future Is Bright

Foothill's varsity wasn't the only team with a great record in waterpolo this year. The J.V.'s and Frosh/Soph carried on where the varsity left off. The J.V. team finished the year with an impressive 12 and 4 record overall. In league the team was 3 and 1. The Frosh/Soph team under the guidance of Coach Delong ended the season with a 13 and 6 record overall. In Century League play the Knights were 3 and 1. The team's only league loss came in a close game with Villa Park.

As for next year and the future of Foothill waterpolo, things look very good. Next year's varsity team will have several returning players along with excellent personnel moving up from the J.V. and Frosh/Soph teams. On next year's team Coach Simcox had this to say, "Next year we have a very good chance to repeat as league champs and even win CIF."

A United Effort

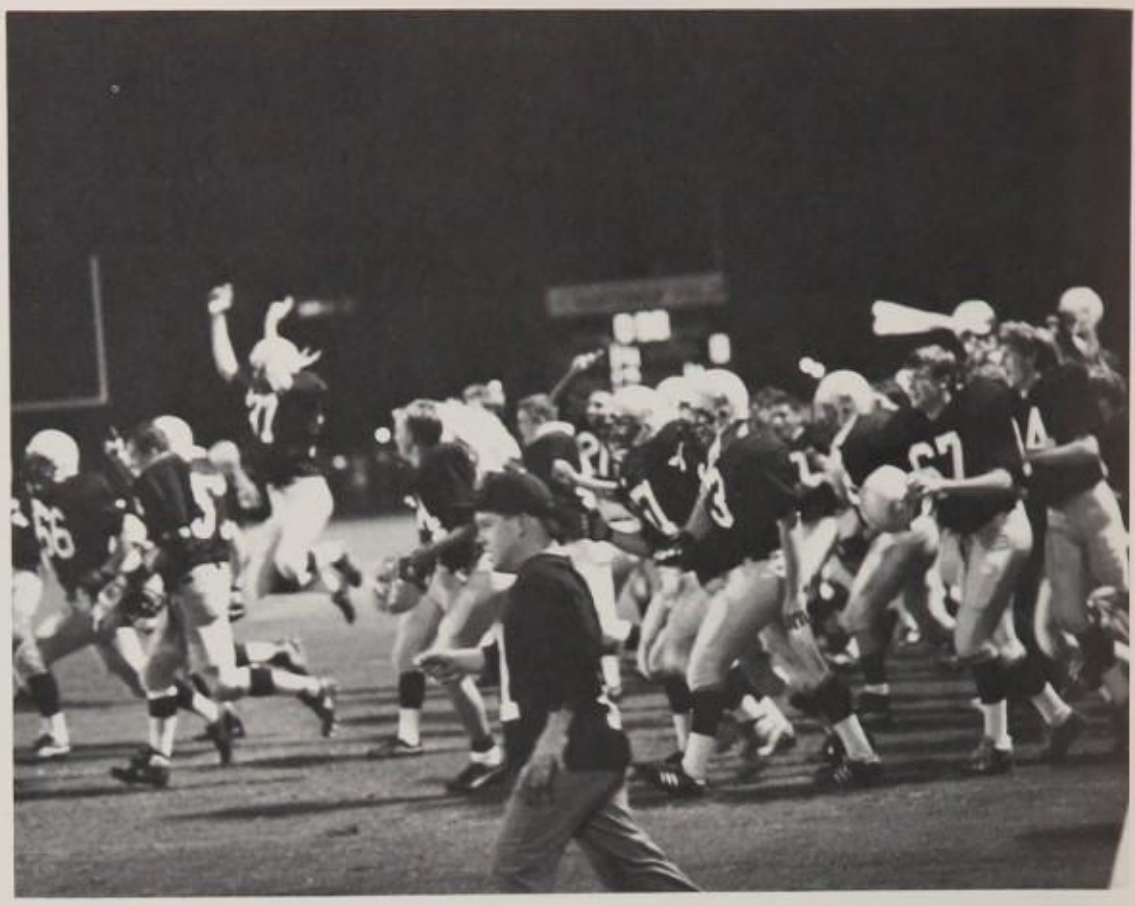
One must consider an excellent football team, and one to look back on were the Knights of '87. A football team that brought hope into a new perspective with new-comer Coach Howell, and top rusher John Mountain. The team itself had a variety of talent that showed both on and off the field. The spirit of the game that went into the season really was brought out by not only the players, but also the fans. It's the fans that gave their players that extra drive to become the best team. The most important game of the year really gave the Knights a well deserved victory. Foothill blew Tustin apart, and recovered the gauntlet that had been taken away the previous year. That victory gave most other teams a run for their money and another reason to practice harder against the best. Foothill is and will always be number one.



The Foothill "D" does the job.

Work For Pride

With a tough schedule this year in football, the Freshmen and Sophomore football team completed their season amidst the hopes for next year. Close games throughout the year cost both of the teams a winning season and a league championship. But the losses did not detract from their willingness to practice hard and to play hard. The Sophomores, led by Ron McGehee and John Shanahan, finished their season with a 4-6 record. The Freshmen, led by Sean Saunders and Tim Hester, ended their season with a 3-6-1 record. Next year, the Freshmen and Sophomores will join the ranks of the Varsity, Junior Varsity, or Sophomore football team. It is only a matter of time before these dedicated Freshmen and Sophomores will lead Foothill to victory.

Sport Of Love

The Varsity, the Junior Varsity, and the Freshmen/Sophomore teams showed prominence for the duration of the season. It would have been hard not to with returning Varsity super stars as Michelle Mccain, Laura Dutrisac and Kristin Northcote. Along with them came such newcomers as foreign exchange student Alex Luckinger from Austria and Shayne Hemsley. Acquired years of experience and team unity were the key factors for the group of eleven girls, as proven with their durable ability that got them to C.I.F. Although they lost second round, the win was not given up easily. Both the Junior Varsity and the Freshmen/Sophomore teams had a great season too! No matter how tough a season, it was a learning experience for each of these girls. All in all, it was a triumphant season for the three girls' tennis teams. Congratulations!

Faster Than The Speed Of Light

"Cross country is unlike any other sport on campus. Those who do not participate think those of us who do are crazy. But we gain such a satisfaction whether we finish an eight mile workout or the fastest 3-mile race of our lives. Intensity of insanity!" Brian Aust's view of cross country is shared by most of the other runners; hard work and dedication with a great payoff. Practice began for cross country runners soon after the end of school last year. Team members were put through rigorous stretching and running exercises for about two hours everyday. The season began strongly for all three teams but ended quietly due to many injuries and illnesses. Although this year did not turn out quite as well as expected, team members have high hopes about next year's team as only two varsity runners are graduating and the remaining team will consist of seasoned veterans. With all the commitment and effort put out by the cross country team, they deserve our highest respect and admiration. "No matter what happened this year, we all had fun, and that's what cross country's all about!"

Cross The Line

Foothill's girls cross country had another year of fun, excitement, and success. Although girl's varsity cross country finished the season with an 0 and 5 record, team members believe that the team was strong but lost their meets because of their challenging league. "The Century League for cross country is one of the most difficult in the state." It is apparent that their record does not speak for the runners' ability, and Foothill's team is talented and very dedicated. They demonstrated this experience and talent at the Sonora Invitational where the varsity and J.V. teams came in first place. Especially strong varsity runners this year were Rebecca Watson, Mary Louise Ordway, Anne Mary Ordway, and Joanna Brooks. Girl's junior varsity and varsity teams have traditionally shown strong performance in competitions, and team members truly feel that they will regain their degree of excellence. "It was definitely a building year, and not one of our better seasons performance wise." Next year should be one filled with success and victory.

Foothill Battles For League Title

The boys varsity team had another very successful season this year. The Knights were 8 and 2 in Century League play. The only two losses came against Santa Ana at Foothill. The two teams were playing for the league championship. Foothill played a terrific game, but it wasn't quite enough and the Knights lost 51 to 40.

Coach Reames said that this years' team had the potential to be one of the best ever. After a great summer with a record of 28 and 5, the Knights were ranked fifth in the county. Unfortunately the momentum didn't last and there were some tough losses in pre-season. There were also great wins before league started. The biggest by far was the Knights' 71 to 58 victory over the Tustin Tillers. A highlight of the season was a team trip to Carson City, Nevada. The team spent a week of their Christmas vacation in Nevada, and earned second place in the tournament.

This years' team was lead by Co-Captain and high scorer Greg Rieber. While Greg was the top scorer, the team played best when it played together. Coach Reames repeatedly said that there were no outstanding players, and the Knights could only win if everyone worked together. This must have worked, because the Knights finished 15 and 6 with high hopes for CIF.

J.V. Wins League

Where the Varsity stopped short, the J.V. team filled in. Guided by their top scorer Todd Henrotin, the Knights were undefeated in Century League action. Their overall record was an equally impressive 17 and 5.

The Frosh/Soph teams were both very successful as usual. The Sophomores captured the league title with a 9 and 1 record. Freshman Coach Dewy VanCleave said this years' team was the best practice team he has ever had. The hard work paid off, and the Freshman Knights were 8 and 2 in league and 15 and 8 overall.

Lady Knights Win League

The 1987-88 season was another successful one in Foothill athletics. This was especially true with the girls varsity basketball team. The Lady Knights, under the direction of Coach Sheila Adams, finished the Century League with a record of 10 and 0. The team was led by three year varsity player Ashley Selman. The Knights entered CIF with an excellent record of fifteen wins and only eight losses.

This years' team was very young, but that didn't seem to hinder their performance. With only three seniors on the varsity, the Lady Knights were one of the youngest teams in the county. They were also one of the best. The team had very little competition in league, and they crushed rival Santa Ana 56 to 33. The Lady Knights have a very good chance to advance in CIF. Next years' team should be even better.

Shooting To Win

The girls basketball program at Foothill has an excellent reputation. This didn't just happen by chance. It has taken years of work and many successful seasons. After this year, the Lady Knights' image can only improve.

The J.V. team was led by its two junior team captains, Amy Bailey and Robin Mayemura. While the team was great this year, its strength is its youth. Next year promises to be even better.

Working Wonders

Foothill's wrestling teams were plagued with inexperience and injuries, and their overall team record this season was not that positive. However, the team shows great promise for the future. This year, the team welcomed two new coaches, and many members this year were freshmen and sophomores. "We didn't have enough experience on the team" said varsity wrestler Jeff King. Steve Coniglio, Wallace Cunningham, and Danny Charton are three examples of underclassmen who have great promise for the future of Foothill wrestling. "Though the wrestling team was not as strong as we would have liked it to be, we still had many exciting and excellent individual wins." The wrestlers had an exciting, though unsuccessful season. Their dedication and sportsmanship kept their spirits up and their opponents down. "We had plenty of good times and made many close friends."

Soccer Makes Its Goals

Despite a tough season, the boys Varsity soccer team finished with the respect of their coach as well as their opponents. Under head coach, Gregg Murphy, the team started off fast in the Irvine Tournament where they crushed Newport Harbor, 6-2, in the fifth place game. In Century League play, the soccer team closely battled their opponents until the last minutes of the game. Unfortunately, team mistakes and carelessness in the last seconds cost the soccer team important victories. Without these miscues, the soccer team would clearly be in contention for the league championship. But they quickly regrouped and bonded together as they barely beat out league's perennial favorite, Santa Ana, 1-0. Bryan Hannegan, winger, best summed up this year's team. "This year's team had a lot of skill, and we did well against some good teams. The attitude was a lot better than last year's team, and we maintained a good level of seriousness about the game. We have a lot of young players, so the seasons to come should be something to watch."

JV, Frosh/Soph Gain Experience

The Junior Varsity boys soccer team had a great season even though many of the players lacked high school playing experience. Many of the members from the Frosh/Soph team were elevated to the Junior Varsity team to improve their soccer skills. The Frosh/Soph boys soccer team had an exceptionally fine season despite this being the first year of inter-school competition for many of the Freshmen players. The Frosh/Soph battled top soccer teams in the Fountain Valley Tournament and throughout Orange County. Highly touted soccer teams including Mater Dei, Edison, and Tustin were all on the Knights schedule. In the future, Coach Laird and Coach Murphy will surely be able to build a winning soccer team with the help of the Frosh/Soph team.

Soccer Sizzles

The 1988 girls soccer teams had a year filled with excitement, competition, and sportsmanship, though very few victories. Girls soccer has only existed at Foothill High School for five years, and in this time the teams have improved greatly. Many of the games in which the varsity team lost were very close and Foothill only lost by one or two goals. In addition to having many close games, the team tied against Brea, Tustin, and El Modena. The soccer players practiced much throughout the season, perfecting their passing, ball control, and teamwork. As the season progressed, the team realized their weaknesses and began to concentrate on these areas to prepare the team for next year's season. The prospects for next year are extremely positive as five of the varsity soccer players this year were freshmen. With the experience gained this year, they should be able to contribute greatly next season. "Although this year was not that great record-wise we are all looking forward to next year."

FHS Hits An HR

The varsity Knights began their season in championship form. In the Newport Elks Tournament, Foothill went all the way to the finals. The team began by destroying Tustin 4 to 1 and then Capo Valley 4 to 3. The Knights beat a strong Don Luego team in the semi-finals before losing a tough game to Mater Dei for the championship. With this excellent finish, the Knights gained respect all over the county.

The team will be counting on its excellent pitching staff, and potentially great hitters. "If we are able to hit the ball and if pitching comes through, we will be very competitive," commented Coach Sedoo. The only weakness for the Knights could be their inexperience and youth.

Young And Strong

This year's J.V. team will head into league with high expectations. The reason for this optimism was expressed by Todd Henrotin, "This year the pitching is really strong. We have a good chance at winning league because of returning J.V. players." A few of this years many highlights were a 7 to 4 victory over El Modena, and an 11 to 2 thrashing of Orange.

The Frosh/Soph team did equally well this year. One of the years high points came in the first game of a double header against Orange. The Knights pulled off an impressive 5 to 4 win over a very strong Orange team.

The girls' softball team has endured many changes since last season, receiving eight new varsity players and a new coach, Dave Ascher, a long-time Bobby Sox coach. Girls' softball required daily practice from sixth period to 4:30 for many months. Even though this year's varsity team had a disappointing season, the many hours of practice bred some excellent players such as Tanya Fox on third base, Paula Valle in left field, and pitcher Katie Hernandez.

The junior varsity team had an adequate season, led by the talent of Hayley Zaydel on third base and pitcher Nichole Smarsty. "Because our team is so young, we should be really strong in the future," said second base junior varsity team member Tricia Smith.

Knights Hole Out

The Foothill golf team will once again be a force to be reconciled with this year. With the top three players all returning varsity lettermen, the Knights should win the league with little trouble. Coach Osborne said that "the team would look to the experience of Clevenger and VanCleave for leadership."

This season's goals include breaking a team score of 200 at Santa Ana Country Club, and advancing several players to CIF. With the help of a few good rolls, the Knights should do this and much more.

The Knights play in one of the toughest leagues in the state. Even with their lack of experience, the team finished an excellent second place. The biggest victories of the year were against Corona Del Mar, University, and Tustin.

Boys Tennis Ace Opponents

The Varsity Boys tennis team destroyed their league opponents despite the presssure of being the defending Century League champs for the past 14 years. During the off season, the players were involved in a difficult conditioning program, lots of running, and intense doubles strategy meetings set up by Coach Terry Davis. The off season work helped as tough pre-season matches against top ranked Orange County teams such as Newport, University, and Dana Hills helped prepare the team to defend their title. Senior John Collins said, "The team lost a lot of top notch players due to graduation last year, but there were many great individual efforts such as Jeff Giesea in singles." The Junior Varsity had another superb season as they played consistently as a team. The JV team showed considerable maturity and growth, and there is no doubt that they will propel next year's Varsity team into contention for the Century League title.

Running Around In Circles

"Running track has been one of my most memorable experiences from my high school days." Reid Yamashiro speaks for all members of track, as track takes much hard work and time from members but also gives a lot of satisfaction in return. The 1988 season was not that impressive as many outstanding varsity members graduated last year. Also, the team is very young, with many freshmen on varsity. The team will be a strong contender after the players gain more experience. The team will be a strong contender after the players gain more experience. Strong varsity members this year were Pete Richards in the triple and jong jump, Paul Thorton in the 100 yard dash, Derek Fritts and Kurt Shipcott in the pole vault, Joe Franco and Brian Aust in the mile, and Reid Yamashiro in the half-mile. Freshman Aaron Paub excels in the long and triple jump, both hurdles, and the 440 yard dash, showing much promise for his next 3 years. Chad McHenry, who is best in the 330 intermediate and 110 high hurdles, is one of the best in the league and is a possible CIF contender. Foothill's boys varsity track had a poor season but has much individual talent.

Future Track Leaders

"This team has enormous potential but we need a lot of time and a lot of practice to bring it out." Senior Tom Gunckel, who excels in the onehundred yard dash, believes that the future of Foothill's junior varsity is promising. In pre-season track meets, the team showed respectable poise against extremely tough competition. The frosh/soph track team is extremely good and there are many varsity caliber members. Two exceptional members of the frosh/soph team are Jason Gabelsberg in the triple and long jumps, and Ron McGehee in the relays, sprints, and jumps. Due to the extraordinary amount of talent contained within the junior varsity and frosh/soph teams, there is a bright future for Foothill's varsity track and field program.

Girls Track Runs Away

Girls' track has traditionally been an excellent team, and this year's team upheld this tradition by having a very successful season. "This year's girls' team has the talent, all they need is the self-confidence and they will be highly successful." Exceptional track members for this season were Ashley Selman who excelled in almost all events, Lisa Henderson in the shot put and discus throw, Anne Mary Ordway in the mile and two mile, Joanna Brooks in the half mile, Jeanette Reed in the quarter mile, and Shannon Singer in the high jump. Ashley, Lisa, and Shannon are all possible CIF contenders. The 1988 girls' track season was memorable and exciting.

Boys Perfect Swim Stroke

Many people have considered the Foothill swimming coaches as the most qualified in Orange County. So when former Long Beach State assistant coach, Jim Brumm, was hired many people wondered about this decision. But many of the boys' swimmers on the Varsity level welcomed the new coach. "Coach Brumm brought new experience to the team. Having two coaches allowed us to improve our stroke technique and helped us individually." With the extra help, the Boys' Varsity swim team challenged Villa Park for the Century League title. Leading the Knights to victories this season were Rob Reynolds, Jason Leach, and Junior Nationalist, Ron Scott.

Girls Swim Towards Title

After more than a decade's domination in Century League play, the Girls' Varsity swim team pummeled its opponents once again. Early morning workouts and afternoon workouts prepared the team for its quest for a record 13th consecutive Century League title. Entering the season, Coach DeLong knew the team would outperform any of his former teams in comparison. It was the best girls' team Foothill had ever had, and DeLong added, "After 23 years, I felt I was rejuvinated." Leading the Knights to a winning season this year were Celina Lemke, Heather Marks, and Megan Logan.

JV Teams Make A Splash

The Boys' and Girls' Junior Varsity swim teams enjoyed excellent seasons at the expense of their opponents. For many of the new Freshmen, adjusting to the intensity of high school competition was easy since most of them had competed in junior swimming leagues. The friendships formed from tough workouts encouraged the Junior Varsity swimmers to swim for the glory of Foothill and for personal records. With many of the Varsity swimmers graduating, the Junior Varsity swimmers will confidently and skillfully replace them next season.

The world is filled with leaders and followers, joiners and quitters, and doers and thinkers. Foothill on the otherhand, is overflowing with clubs to fulfill the needs of such diverse personalities. For those who wanted a head start on the ladder of success, there was the Young Entrepreneurs' Club. There was the Spirit Club to bring Foothill's enthusiasm and school spirit into a collective group to cheer its' athletes on and rally students together at school activities. There were also the more traditional, but no less popular clubs like Key Club, CSF, and the Thespian Club.

vered through membership. Common goals were attained through activities such as fundraisers, outings, and meetings. Students worked hard to perpetuate their club's interests by selling BlowPops, frozen yogurt, snow cones, and especially through participation in Feast and Joust.

Clubs teach us to lead, to follow, to serve, to intermingle, to cooperate, and to be a part of a group. Seeking out our identities as individuals is an important part of living and growing up. Each new environment allows us to realize our potential and our needs. Involvement in clubs is another opportunity to search for what is hidden and to refine what is already possessed.

Drama Hits The Big Time

The Foothill Drama Department has had the opportunity to do many fun activities including performing the famous play, Harvey. This is a comedy about a man named Elwood, who has a friend, 6 feet tall and is a rabbit. The rabbit is Harvey and no one else but Elwood can see him.

"Harvey was a fun and challenging play to work with . . . "

-J. Hoff-

Elwoods' sister decides to commit Elwood to an institution. However when they get there the doctor thinks Elwoods' sister should be committed. After all the commotion soon comes to an end, the doctor decides to give Elwood a shot so he will forget Harvey. Elwoods' sister thinks twice about it and stops the doctor from doing the deed.

On The Road In Hawaii

Spring break. The band went to Hawaii for the second time in its history. The performed in several catagories such as parades, half-time presentations, jazz, stage band, and solo competitions. The overall effort was fantastic.

It's been a fun, and neat year.
- S. Schultz -

This was the first year the band has done half-time competition shows. While taking their performance to Carson and Norwalk, they won the most second place trophies. "I have had the best organization this year than any other," Mr. Waibel replied, "and to do the things we have, have been amazing." This years band had patience, pride, and a spirit to keep things moving along.

Building A Book

The yearbook staff of 88', had their work cut out for themselves this year. To come up with over two hundred pages for their school is no easy task, and to make them as good as they could possibly be is hard work. There was a lot of effort and labor that went into the yearbook. From first choosing the theme, to turning in last page of the deadline puts a lot of pressure on the staff.

Yearbook is a laborious, but exciting project.

- E. Dapkewicz -

Most of the pressure was taken away due to the excitement that was generated inside the classroom. Yearbook had gone through some major changes through the year, and made some areas extremely difficult to overcome. The dedication and teamwork seemed to cast out that problem, and the Foothill yearbook was successfuly completed.

Hot Off The Press

During the year, there's nothing better than to sit down and read one of the monthly issues of Knightlife. For this to be possible, we look toward the journalism class of 88'. A class that produces a paper every month to give its school something to read about.

It's the experience one achieves, that counts.

- T. Araujo -

Working to create a story is sometimes very difficult, but when these students get into something, they dig into it. Journalism is not just another period to ease the time away, it's an adventure to take seriously.

Live each day to the fullest. Get the most from each hour, each day, and each age of your life. Then you can look forward with confidence, and back without regrets.

Be yourself—but be your best self. Dare to be different and to follow your own star.

And don't be afraid to be happy. Enjoy what is beautiful. Love with all your heart and soul. Believe that those you love, love you.

Forget what you have done for your friends, and remember what they have done for you. Disregard what the world owes you, and concentrate on what you owe the world.

When you are faced with a decision, make that decision as wisely as possible—then forget it. The moment of absolute certainty never arrives.

And above all, remember that God helps those who help themselves. Act as if everything depended upon you, and pray as if everything depended upon God.

Current Scene

Tradition plays a vital role in the news scene. Unfortunately, 1987-1988 was a period of breaking traditional ethics, values, and laws of public conduct. Honesty seemed almost a foreign word. This year will definitely be remembered as a year of disillusionment and distrust, as well as a year of new visions.

Government officials played a dangerous game of power, lies, and corruption. Under-the-table deals eventually found their way to Congressional investigative desks. The Iran-Contra Scandal was a prime example.

T.V. evangelists received the kind of media coverage they never wanted. The PTL was left in shambles due to Jim and Tammy Bakker's evasive use of church funds and Jim Bakker's affair with his secretary, Jessica Hahn. Jimmy Swaggart further tainted the T.V. ministry when he confessed to his sinful meetings with prostitutes.

Fear has definitely thrust fear into the hearts of millions of American, as AIDS became an epidemic killing disease. Controversy and panic disrupted peace in small towns and public schools. The disease attacked homosexuals, drug users, and recipients of blood transfusions, who were forced to face the grim reality of AIDS. Education was the only cure the Surgeon General could offer.

Closer to home, California became the Land of Shake and Bake. California was literally rocked in October when a 6.1 earthquake shook the entire state. Residents were quickly reminded of the imminence of the Big One.

Through such a diversity of events, we must realize that anything is possible. Now that we have discovered the level of human error, it becomes the responsibility of the future generation to forsee problems before they occur and to regain the sense of human trust so necessary to a progressive existence.

Top right: The two superpower leaders, Mikhail Gorbachev and Ronald Reagan, met in December of 1987 for a three-day summit meeting and signed a nuclear arms control agreement.
Middle right: The U.S. made efforts to protect shipping vessels in the Persian Gulf from Iranian hostilities.
Below right: T.V. evangelists Jim and Tammy Faye Bakker fell out of the grace of their followers when Jim confessed to an illicit affair with Jessica Hahn and Tammy admitted to her drug dependancy.

Above: Marine Lt. Col. Oliver L. North became something of a celebrity when he was discovered as a key official in the plan to finance anti-government rebels in Nicaragua with money from arms sales to Iran.
Top left: A 6.1 earthquake rocked California in October of 1987, causing extensive damage, especially in Whittier.
Middle left: In the six years since Americans first heard of AIDS, nearly 25,000 Americans have been killed by the disease. Pres. Reagan has proclaimed the plague "Public Enemy No. 1."
Below left: The Dow Jones industrial stock average dropped 508 points, the largest in history, on Monday, October 19. On "Black Monday" $500 billion was stripped from the market value of U.S. securities.

Closing

The cool summer breeze whispers through the final pages of weary textbooks. The sunlight pierces the hollow interiors of the faded blue lockers for a final moment. The snow white walls of the confined classrooms will soon be deaf to the excited sounds of gossip-filled conversation and heated intellectual discussions. College has lured most of the seniors on to their campuses, into a new realm of academic and social progress. Summer has made its' call to all of its' ardent admirers. Foothill must now let go of its' students and wait patiently for the coming fall.

Physically, we may have departed from those hallowed halls of education. But we actually carry so much with us, in our memories and in our hearts, for the rest of our lives. Those four impressionable years of growth, experience, and human interaction are virtually irreplaceable. There are those who will never forget the nervous hands of their escorts carefully sliding their first corsage on to their wrists. There will be the first date that no one ever forgets. There is the excitement of receiving one's driver's license and running free with that new freedom behind the wheel of a car. Unfortunately, there are also memories of that first speeding ticket and the eternal hours of traffic school. All the novels you thought you read for nothing, now seem to make so much more sense as you enter the real world those authors kept writing about. You will come back years later to visit that one teacher who took the time to care and offer you words of advice to offer him or her your words of thanks.

High school was one of the greatest scenes ever played in your scenerio of life. You may be thrilled to leave it now, but when someone asks you what were the best years of your life, "High school." will probably roll off your tongue before you even realize it.

Right: Nasreen Hussain has mastered the skill of reading with her eyes closed.
